CWA's online update for Cingular customer service, sales and network employees

Cingular Bargaining Report #18

February 28, 2005

Negotiations have again been recessed after your CWA Bargaining Committee returned to the table on Thursday, Feb. 24 to resume formal talks with Cingular Wireless.

We are continuing to focus management's attention on our key issues: employment security and our sales, call center, technical and network issues.

It's especially critical that Cingular Wireless understands that the merger with AT&T Wireless has to work for all of us – and that means employees at both companies, as well as customers and management.

After an overwhelming vote by the membership gave CWA leaders authorization to call legal work actions, including a possible strike, further plans are in the works to increase our mobilization and show that we are determined to achieve the fair contract we deserve.

Your Local Mobilization Coordinators will be telling you more about how you can help convince Cingular Wireless that we are serious about raising the bar too!

Your CWA Bargaining Committee greatly appreciates your continued show of strength and support.

In solidarity,
Your bargaining committee
